The Class Of 1912

Old Grads From Rockland High Kick Up Heels At Beach Inn

Members of class of 1912, R.H.S.
had a pleasant reunion Monday night at Beach Inn, Lincolnville.
Eighteen members and six guests
did justice to the chicken and lobster dinner. Lottie Jones was master of ceremonies and Mrs. Bertha Borgerson officiated as secretary,
in the absence of Mrs. Kathryn St.
Clair.

Communications were read from
Mrs. Edna Nelson Mann and Mrs.
Leola Wade Wood. Speeches from out of town guests followed the roll call and music was furnished by
Mrs. Geneva Huke, piano and Mrs.
Emma Harvie, violin.
Discovery was made of the 21st

wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Peterson and they were promptly presented with a wedding cake. Mrs. Peterson also received a beautiful (?) bouquet of flowers,
garden variety. After the singing of the class ode, adjournment was made until next August.

Those attending were Miss Anna
M. Flynn, Mr. and Mrs. Orrie Tolman (Carrie Gregory) Mrs. Beatrice Hanrahan Philbrook, Mr. and Mrs.
Francis Haverer, Mr. and Mrs.
Joseph Baum (Flora Jackson), Mr.
and Mrs. Lottie Jones, Mrs. Bertha Learned Borgerson, Mr. and Mrs.
Ralph Calderwood (Blanche Magee)
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chase (Theresa Manning), Mr. and Mrs. Albert
Peterson, Mrs. Emma Covei Harvie,
Mrs. Geneva Rose Huke, Mrs. Georgia Shuman Cross, Mrs. Doris Small

Told Of Hobbies

Past King Lion From Port- land Gives Local Club Fine Talk

Almost everybody has a hobby,
and that certainly applies to the members of the Rockland Lions Club who yesterday listened with keenest interest to the lecture on that subject presented by Carroll
T. Skillin, a past president of the Portland Lions Club, and a leading member of the Cumberland County Bar. An intimate friend of Past King Lion Charles T. Smalley,
he was introduced in an appropriate manner. He came back at Mr.
Smalley by dubbing him a song writer.

Mr. Skillin defined hobby "as any particular thing one likes to do outside of his regular business."
"Riding a hobby" is an expression
which comes from the act of riding
a hobby horse two centuries ago.

The art of hobbyism has two fundamentals—(1) to acquire knowledge; (2) to have an acquisitive nature and acquire things; (3) the creation of things. Hobbies are burglar-proof riches; no one can take away the knowledge you have gained from them.

"It is pathetic," said the speaker,
"when you hear a person say: 'I have nothing to do.' You never hear a hobbyist say that."

Mr. Skillin said he was bitten by the hobby bug while collecting for his brother on a Southern trip. He became interested in Early American Glass, and told of the thrill a collector gets when he acquires "a whale of a good bargain." "It eggs
them on," he said.

Mention was made of glassworks
in several parts of the country, including Portland, where a design known as "the Tree of Life" was manufactured by an expert named Davis.

Mr. Skillin's hobby of collecting Early American Glass did not stop there; he began collecting Early American spectacles—and also became interested in amateur astronomy.

His story was told in a decidedly interesting manner.
Dr. A. H. Chase of Boston was a visiting Lion, and sang with great gusto. Charles T. Smalley was the guest of Frank H. Ingraham, chairman of the entertainment committee.

IN GRANDMOTHER'S DAY

How They Kept House 80 Years Ago—You'll Get Real Thrill From This

Grandmother went to keeping house about 1829
and was an old hand at
the art of homemaking
when I lived with her as a favored granddaughter.
Her tasks and her kitchen utensils
were very different from those which are familiar to the Twentieth century housekeeper. The passing of three generations has indeed seen
as complete a revolution in housekeeping as in transportation or communication. Because the old ways of cooking and homemaking are little known today I have been asked to recall how Grandmother Friend
kept house 80 years ago.

Her long work day started at 5 o'clock. She found her kitchen fire built but breakfast preparation
had to wait until she had milked
the cows, and there were usually four of them. The milk was set to cool in the pantry. During the summer part of the milk was made into cheese. She heated a wash-
boiler of milk and turned it to curd,
which was then put in the cheese
press and squeezed so that the whey might drain from the curd. She made a cheese every other day for a month. Each cheese was wrapped in a cloth and stored in the cheese room until freezing weather when it was taken down cellar. Some of the cheeses were flavored with sage.
Grandfather Friend always expected doughnuts and cheese for breakfast and pumpkin pie and cheese made a favorite dessert.
Most of the year she made butter
in an up-and-down churn. The hired boy did the churning but she spent long hours "doing up" her butter and mounding it into stamped cakes. The product was easily sold for she had the reputation of being a fine butter maker.
Captain Wood, her son-in-law,
marketed some of her butter in Rockland. Wherever the product was marketed, the proceeds were always hers. Grandmother's butter money often proved a friend to her husband or some relative in need.

Foods other than cheese and butter were prepared at home. Every fall a huge hog was butchered.
Hung from a pole in the shed with a hogshead of steaming water beneath, what a sight he was; Grandfather smoked the hams in the old smokehouse which was fragrant
with the smoke from many corn cob
and rock maple fires. Grandmother made sausage. She cleaned
the intestines, turned them wrong side out and filled them with the sausage mixture well blended with spices pounded in her worn mortar and pestle. The sausage roll furnished many breakfasts during the cold winter. The family enjoyed the hogshead cheese and the pickled pig's feet were considered a great delicacy.

Grandmother preserved berries of all kinds. Most were put up pound for pound, i. e., a pound of sugar
to a pound of berries. The mixture was poured into gray stone
crock of a gallon or even four-gallon capacity. The preserves were so sweet that they kept without the crock being sealed. Sauce was the supper stand-by. In winter dried apples or the preserve crocks furnished the sauce. In summer there were plenty of berries from the time of the wild strawberry to that of the frost-nipped cranberry. Not all the crocks were filled with preserves. Some held salted cucumbers and pickles. None of the pickles contained tomatoes for no one raised them. Grandmother's step-daughter was the first person
in town to raise tomatoes, the seed of which she brought home from a voyage to the South.

In those days the men helped prepare food. During the fall evenings the family gathered around the fireplace to peel apples and pumpkin for drying and to chop mince-meat. It was a pleasure to pick the large purple raisins from the stems and they were such raisins
as cannot be bought today. If neighbors came in to help a treat
was served at the end of the evening. Sometimes sliced turnips were passed around. Each guest was given a knife with which he scraped
the turnip, sweet and cool from the root cellar.

Saturday was baking day. Early in the morning a hot fire was built in the brick oven. When the wood was burned, the ashes were removed and a huge pot of beans was placed in the oven. Later brown bread and white bread were added.

Pies were baked near the mouth of the oven lest the crust become burned. Cakes were baked in the stove oven, which was a foot and a half above the stove and which was heated by two pipes which went through it.

At least once a week she made Indian pudding which was sweetened with molasses or brown sugar.
Her only white sugar was in the lump form and was kept in a special sugar bowl which was brought out for company. Her kitchen was often fragrant with the odor of roasting coffee beans. Grandfather bought the unroasted mocha coffee
beans which were poured into baker
sheets for roasting.

Coffee was served twice a day
and was made from roasted beans
which were ground each morning.
Grandmother had no yeast. She made a "rising" for her bread from salt and hot milk. Sometimes she made bannock bread which was very light. Corn meal was much used for bread and hasty pudding,
though Grandmother did not like to have pudding often because it took too much of the milk which she preferred to use for butter or cheese.

.....
Grandmother always had a large family for which to cook. After her step-sons and step-daughter left home her granddaughter was with her. Often an aged or unfortunate relative came to spend the winter.
Peddlars were always welcome at Friend's Corner. Some sold hardware; some sold dry goods; and one, a Mr. Snow from Bucksport, peddled bonnets which his wife
made.

One winter there was a hired girl
but she was hired not for house work
but rather to repair Grandfather's damaged porgy nets. She made one new net and found time to make some braided rugs.

There was always a hired boy
who helped with the farm work in return for his board, his clothes and a little spending money. One boy was a town pauper who was bound out by the town of Brooksville. Another was an orphan from Philadelphia who was left stranded
in town when Captain Miller tied up his boat for the winter. Grandfather took him in but he never did much work for he was unused to country ways. One forenoon he spent at the shore and when asked what he had been doing, replied
"making arrangements to dig some clams."

.....
The preparation of food was only a small part of Grandmother's work.
Every year she made a barrel of soap. For this she saved ashes and fat scraps. The lye and grease were heated on the stove and the boiling mixture was taken to the shed where it was poured into a barrel. She always kept on hand
two barrels of soft soap for she considered that good soap had to be a year old.

Her spinning wheel was kept in the kitchen when she was spinning yarn. The yarn was home dyed as well as home spun. A large stone jug was kept behind the stove and served as the dye pot. Chamber lyre and indigo made the dye mixture which gave forth a bad odor.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

If I had my life to live again I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once a week. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness.—Charles Darwin

YOUR GARDEN

Is your garden of life what he'd have
it be?
Do you jealously nourish each desirable
tree
That has root in the soil of your soul?
Is each plant in this garden of a suitable kind
That the lowest or highest will readily find
Even a comforting joy in the whole?

Do you cut off the thistles which persistently come.
Then go down to destroy the roots they come from
That they may not be the beautiful site?
Do you add to the soil of your plot
every day
Just a little bit more than you harvest
away?

In order to strengthen your might?
Are your plans so disposed that each
passer-by knows
A gardener loves and attends to dew?
Dawn-kissed and freshened with dew?
And what of your fences, are they lasting and strong?
Is each nicely fitted, unyielding to wrong?
Which the tempter sends out against
you?

If your garden of life has the beauty
of these,
If you can say "yes" to these personal
queries
Praying still for benevolent care,
Your God will be pleased with the work
you have done.
When your goal is at hand and your
course is well run
What a garden there'll be for you
there!

"The Black Cat"

By The Roving Reporter

Somebody has handed me a copy of the centennial issue of the Rockland Gazette published July 4, 1876.
Among the articles are "The Shore
Village in 1826," "Knox County 100
Years Ago," "Towns on Penobscot
Bay 50 Years Ago," "Camden Seventy Years Ago," "Thomaston:
1776-1876," "Vinal Haven: Its Early Days." Alas! Nobody now living can recall any of the events
or conditions therein chronicled.

Occasionally, when a prospective
customer enters a store, he encounters a social chat between the clerk
and a friend, and often the conversation is of such prolonged nature
that the intentional buyer walks out empty handed rather than intrude on the absorbing discourse.
Result: One sale lost.

.....
Guests who dined at The Thorndike Hotel Oct. 21, 1861, could not have suffered from indigestion due to overeating. My neighbor, Frank M. Tibbetts, hands me one of the menus for that day and I find that the patrons were offered vegetable soup, and choice of pressed corn
beef, pork, tongue, turkey, chicken,
veal or roast beef. In striking contrast to the fine card now offered by the O'Neils. In connection with the menu was published the steamboat and stage schedules. The steamer Daniel Webster left three times a week for Portland connecting with the trains, and the steamer Menemon Sanford made two sailings a week for Boston. There were three stages, running between Rockland, Bath, Belfast and Augusta. G. W. Hodges was proprietor of the hotel.

John L. Beaton of Oliver street
hands me a copy of The Enterprise,
published in this city in 1873 by W.
O. Fuller, Jr., as editor, and F. S.
Bickford as associate editor. At the mast-head was this statement: "An original monthly journal, devoted to the interest of things in general,
and of the publisher in particular."

.....
Miss Arlene Havener, one of The Brook's popular young clerks, thinks a lot of her canary and admires the songster's spunk. For the bird has lost one of its legs and one of its wings but sings as happily as ever
for all who care to listen.

Kittens have a habit of following folks. The little buff shag which this paragraph concerns followed a Summer street woman one week ago, and would not turn back in spite of pleadings and threats. If some reader misses it, telephone

happy.

The item which I wrote recently about Collector Luce attracted the attention of a friend in New Hampshire who writes:
"The late William H. Luce, prior to his appointment as Collector of Customs for the Wadsworth District, was confined to the house with some trivial indisposition. On his first appearance up town after his recovery, he was greeted by a friend
with the following poetic effusion,
which will draw a reminiscent smile
from those who recall the politics of those days:
William Luce has just got out.
Convinced from the gout.
For the collectorship he will shout.
When Joseph E. Moore gets turned out."

.....
Rockland had evidently planned
to hold a Fourth of July celebration in 1893. The Union Weekly Times of June 10 said: "Rockland
slumps on the celebration of the Glorious Fourth. We supposed our shire town had more sand."

.....
The old fashioned custom of placing a conch shell on either side of the house entrance has by no means vanished. I saw many of them in St. George Saturday during quite an extended tour of that town.

Old Folks' Day

Members of Three-Quarter Century Club Had Fine Time At Augusta

Maine's Three-Quarter Century club members, ranging in age from 75 to 104, trekked back home tired and weary Tuesday night after a day of fun at their 14th annual meeting, concluded by the election of a new president, Martin L. Durgin, Milo lawyer.

Durgin, former secretary of the group, was chosen to succeed the retiring head, Mrs. Helen A. Prince of East Bluehill, who was named to the executive committee with Charles A. McAvey of Bangor and Mrs. Eliza Fogg of Litchfield.

Linwood Jordan of Portland was named vice president to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Edward Haney of Ellsworth.

The organization, represented by nearly 2000 members, passed resolutions on the death of Haney, also Rev. Ezekiel Stevens of Bucksfield.

Charles George of West Paris, looking forward to his 104th birthday anniversary Saturday, and Miss Mary Ellen Libby of Gardiner, who will be 101 next month, were awarded the Gov. Lewis O. Barrows prizes of $5 each for being the oldest man and woman present.

Tentative arrangements were made to have the 15th annual session of the club in Dover-Foxcroft next summer.

After Gov. Barrows had spoken briefly, many of the group participated in various contests and sports with prizes of $5 each going to the winners.

Barrows told the group old age assistance "is being expedited in every possible way" and gave assurance the State laws did not place a lien or waiver on property owned by recipients of such assistance. The governor said public statements had been made by his "opponents" that the state had a lien on property of persons receiving assistance.

Barrows called the members' attention to the recently-published financial status of the state, saying it showed Maine had balanced its budget and was operating on a "business-like" basis.

The "longest married" couple present were Mr. and Mrs. George Benson of Oakland who said they were married 69 years ago.

C. F. McDougal of Fort Fairfield, Aroostook County, was awarded the $5 prize for traveling the longest distance—240 miles to attend the meeting.

Old-time costumes, worn by the owners when "we were young gals," were displayed by the women folk who chatted with old acquaintances as they attended to their knitting.

Meanwhile, the men folk sneaked away for a "little game" of checkers and to talk again about the "good old days."

Prizes were awarded to the following winners in the various contests:

Horseshoe pitching, P. E. Hinds, 90, Livermore Falls; checker playing, Edgar L. Stevens, 81, Portland; knitting Mrs. Harriet Vaillancourt, 85, South Portland; fiddle playing, Robert Daniels, 83, Ellsworth.

Miss Sarah Whitten of Topsham won the $5 prize for having the "quaintest" costume.

Do It Yourself

Advice of L. P. Newbert To Critic Who Kicked About Caterpillars

Rockland, Aug. 30.
Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

The article by Eugene Simmons is of interest. Therein I find voluntary confession of complicity in the attitude of a certain element of our citizens toward business and the administration policies.

There is no law to prohibit the private citizen, or a town, or a corporation doing what needs to be done. It is not necessary to wait for a subsidy from Uncle Sam in order to destroy a nest of caterpillars. But one would think so. When I see such a nest on my premises, I destroy it without writing letters to Washington. Mr. Simmons writes that he found on his maple trees seven worms, live cocoons, etc. And Mr. Simmons is still waiting for Uncle Sam to start in on them.

Mr. Simmons also mentions "the store at the four corners," where we are told laws are made and candidates elected. The champions of all descriptions are there to be found. Also the critics. But not much initiative.

The concerns doing business today are those with "git up and git," while others await a subsidy from the government or sue because the wrong party holds the reins. We had an experience here years ago, when some of our business firms, employing a few men on part time as depression wages, wailed loudly and long because the C.W.A. paid workers 50 cents an hour for a 30-hour week, such pay and hours luring away their employees.

Some time ago I wished to make a purchase at 7:30 a. m. The store to which I went was closed. A short way up the street I found the proprietor watching a group of WPA workers at the city dump, waiting for the trucks to bring gravel. Said the onlooker:

"Now, aren't they working hard?" "Yes," said I; "and I heard two or three say the same about you because your store isn't open."

My son was once a C.C.C. boy and was also at the Quoddy Training Project. I never heard him complain of lack of work. There were forest fires to fight in addition to the regular routine. And probably most of these fires are started by the careless critic.

If we look for 100% efficiency in the W.P.A. or C.C.C. we should remember that the government never has, nor does expect it. In the one class the majority are untrained; in the other they are learning. We cannot expect school boys, fishermen, and lime trimmers to become tree surgeons overnight.

The old saw reminds us: "If you want anything well done, do it yourself." This applies to tent caterpillars.

GREGORY'S

KNOX TWILIGHT LEAGUE

Final Game To Be Played Sunday—Wiscasset Accepts Waldoboro Challenge

Tonight—Warren at Camden.
Friday night—St. George at Warren.
Sunday afternoon—Warren at Camden.

As the Twilight League now stands St. George has won first place in both halves. Camden has won second place in the first half, but second place in the second half is undetermined.

Wiscasset has accepted Waldoboro's challenge and will meet the Waldoboro baseball team in Waldoboro Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Ted Rice will hurl for Waldoboro, opposed by Jimmy Hilton. The promoter predicts a game well worth seeing.

Writing from his home in Medford, Mass., John A. (Jit.) Ricker of the St. George team says:

"For me the season is over as far as actual playing goes. However, I'm still much interested in the progress of the League. It has been a fine season, with very few exceptions. The fact that the league weathered the loss of two members in midstream and kept on to a successful finish was commendable. George H. Thomas of Camden comes in for much credit on this account. George did a fine job this year; he had a hard row to hoe, too. We need more men of his calibre."

St. George 8, Camden 8

The Camden Shells were guilty of seven errors in their game with St. George at Camden Tuesday night, but batting rallies in the fifth and sixth innings enabled them to overtake the Steamroller boys. The visitors had two men on in the last inning, but there were two down, and Old Reliable Dool Dalley took care of Ivan Simmons' long fly. Camden went out in order.

The batting heroes of this engagement were Belyea who made a single, double and a home run, and Lowell who made two triples in succession.

The visitors loudly protested that Belyea's homer was a foul ball, and allowed the tying run to cross the plate while the argument was in progress.

Mackie had the distinction of reaching first base four times in succession on errors. Yet some persons maintain there is no Santa Claus. Belyea's double drove in three runs, and he in turn was driven in by Lord's double.

Thomaston 10, Warren 1

For two innings, at Warren last night, it looked as though the luckless rookie team had again found itself, with White on the mound, despite the fact that Mahoney Felt had opened the show with a lusty triple. With two errors behind him White held Thomaston to a single run, and in the next inning he looked like a million dollar baby when he fanned Libby, Jealous and Barlow in quick succession.

Grafton's stinging hit into the outfield brought in two runs for Thomaston in the third inning, and from that moment on it was a parade for the visitors, White being banded for two doubles, a single and a triple in the fourth, and a triple and four singles in the fifth. Thomaston made three more scores in its half of the sixth, but Umpire Thomas wisely called the game on account of darkness, midway of the half, so the score reverted to the end of even innings.

Felt had a perfect night at bat, slugging out two triples, walking once. He also figured in a brilliant play when he scooped up Newbert's

A rose of exquisite fragrance
In the garden gay,
High over latticed entrance—
Greeting the dawn of day.
Deep in this garden's grotto
Where nodding lilies red
Waved a graceful good night
To the sun as it went to bed.
Birds chattered low their matins
While cats for their victims glare;
Bows in berry bushes
Were plucking the fruitage rare.
Cars parked in deepest shadow
Sweethearts in accents low
Telling their love rare nothings;
Winds wafting to and fro.
Bells ringing out the curfew
Declare nights are made for sleep;
Whiz and bang of trucks as they flew
Up and down the street.
Light softly seeping through the haze,
Milk cart rattles its ware,
Puffing of train as it comes to base Morning advances with its joy and care
Again day is at full pace.

If you would like some sandwiches
to go with this, bring them along.
The expense of the clam bake will be small and we will all chip in.
Following the "bake" we will go to Alfred Hocking's cottage for doughnuts and coffee. Then on to R. O.
Elliot's for the meeting. If stormy postponed to Monday, Sept. 5. Ladies and guests are welcome, and a swell time guaranteed. Willis R.
Vinal, Chairman Outing Committee." The date is Saturday.

NEWS OF THE DAY
—AT—
CAMDEN

As collected by our correspondent,
GILBERT HARMON
Telephone, Camden 713

The Baptist Philathea Class and Ladies Circle will hold a picnic today at Bald Rock cottage in Lincolnville, guests of Mrs. Marion Hopkins and her father, Frank Heald. A covered dish luncheon will be served at 12.30. Please take dishes and silver.

Members of the summer camp colony who have left for their homes this week are: Mrs. Helen Brand and Ruth Dean of Detroit, Elsa Gilman of Oberlin, Ohio; Montrose Phillips and Virginia Lambert of Cleveland, and Betty Munzer of Long Island, N. Y. Those leaving today are Frances Stanton of Baltimore, and Betty Mink and mother of Waterbury, Conn.

A large crowd attended the weekly meeting and supper of the Lions Club Tuesday at the Wadsworth Inn. Singing was enjoyed and a few remarks were made by Leon Crockett. It was voted to go to Belfast, Sept. 14, to attend their Ladies Night, and it was also voted to attend the Zone Meeting at Vinal Haven, Sept. 8. There were six guests present from Belfast and Rockland.

Mr. and Mrs. Angus Haskell entertained Sunday at Norton's Pond, Lincolnville, Mr. and Mrs. Holman Robbins and daughter Faye, Mrs. Blanche of South Union, and Mr. and Mrs. Miles Jones and son, Robert, of Union.

The Setter farm, Moody Mountain, Lincolnville, has been sold to P. M. McLaughlin of Nyckoff, N. J. through the Allen Insurance Agency.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hatch of Auburn were in town this week.

Mr. and Mrs. George O. Pratt and family of Alexandria, Va., are leaving the Robbins cottage at Megunticook Lake this weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Young and Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Drinkwater spent Tuesday in Augusta, as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Carroll.

At the Rotary Club Meeting Tuesday, Prof. Charles E. Breed of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, a summer resident, gave an interesting talk on Civil Engineering and Research. Visiting Rotarians were: Russell Davis, George Cumming and Joseph Blaisdell, all of Rockland; Edward Anderson, Upland, Mass.; John P. Forward, Hartford, Conn.; Edward MacArthur, Malden, Mass.; K. C. Love, Belfast; and Joshua C. Chase, Glendale, Fla.

Edwin G. Dillingham has left his summer home, Pointed Pines, Dillingham's Point for New York.

Douglas Libby and Edward Bartlett are among the few who have exhibited their piscatorial skill by catching striped bass. In a recent fishing trip to the Georges River, Thomaston, after this highly prized fish, they brought back one six-pounder and one four-pounder.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bell who have been occupying the Young Cottage at Lake Megunticook, are leaving this week for their home in Augusta.

Mrs. C. H. Witherell of Ellsworth is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Grinnell.

I. Lawton Bray of the Yacht Building and Railway, Inc. was in Boothbay Harbor, Tuesday, on business.

Miss Pearl Walden is visiting her sister, Mrs. Jack Fraser, in Portland.

The Wildfire, owned by Frederick A. Flood of Boston and whose captain is Ralph Wooster, was in the harbor Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Yassen and daughter of Dorchester, Mass., have been guests of Clarence Phillips.

Prof. and Mrs. Harry Nelson and family of Narbeth, Pa., are leaving

Mrs. Nelly C. Jordan has returned to New York after spending two months at the home of Mrs. Herbert Coates.

Mr. and Mrs. Loring Woodbury of Ipswich, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. William Fifield of Rockland were callers Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Young. Mrs. Fifield and Mrs. Woodbury are sisters of Mrs. Young.

Mrs. J. H. Walker of Prince Edward Island is spending a week with her great-aunt, Mrs. Minnie Crozier.

Mrs. Flora R. Hiltz is confined to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Malinda M. Brown, with a broken arm and other injuries received in a fall.

Twenty members and guests of the Trytohelp Club motored Monday to Norton's Pond where they were entertained at the Charles Rhodes, Jr., cottage with Mrs. Rhodes as hostess. A picnic supper was enjoyed out-of-doors, followed by boat rides around the lake and a social hour.

Miss Margaret Howe and brother, Ralph Howe of Jacksonville, N. S., were weekend guests at the home of Mrs. Minnie Crozier.

Miss Leoline Wilson and Miss Gladys Quimby have returned from Cribhaven where they visited Leoline's father, Ralph Wilson.

Frank Rider returned Monday to North Haven after spending the weekend with his family.

The midweek prayer service at the Baptist Church tonight will be in charge of a former pastor, Rev. Philip C. Hughey, now of New York City.

Mrs. Ella A. Ames, Charles A. Achorn and Thomas Healey of Concord, N. H., and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Brennan of Chicago are guests this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Achorn.

Among those from here who attended the meeting of the Three-Quarter Century Club at Augusta Tuesday were Mrs. Cecelia Cain, Mrs. Lillian Perkins, Mrs. Josephine Wall and Chester Pascal. Accompanying them on the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur K. Walker and Capt. and Mrs. Ernest M. Torrey, who donated the use of their cars.

Miss Mildred Butler of Union is visiting Miss Ruth Orbeton for the week.

Rev. and Mrs. George Currier, daughter Thedessa and son Charles were callers Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert U. Rhodes enroute from Corinna, where they had been vacationing to their home at Compton, N. H. Mr. Currier will resume his duties as pastor of the Baptist Church.

A special meeting of Harbor Light Chapter, O.E.S., was held Tuesday night and the degrees conferred on Misses Lois and Dorothy Burns.

Following the business session ice cream and cake were served and a social hour enjoyed.

A surprise Democratic rally took place Tuesday night at Firemen's hall with a record attendance. The visitors were the candidates and county officials. Presiding officer and guest speaker was Hector Staples of Rockland, past department commander of American Legion, who pleasingly introduced J. Crosby Hobbs, candidate for State Senator; Henry Ames, candidate for Representative from Union; Almon P. Richardson, candidate for sheriff; Robert McCarty, candidate for county commissioner. Oliver P. Hamlin, past department commander, V.F.W., gave a most interesting and instructive talk. Remarks by William Claytor of Lincolnville were also enjoyed.

Miss Lois Burns, who has been employed at Camp Merestead during the summer, leaves today for two weeks' training at a camp in New Hampshire before resuming her studies at the Sargent School of Physical Education at Cambridge, Mass.

Mrs. Leland Hawkins and daughters Mary and Joyce are visiting her sister Mrs. Howard Robinson at Southwest Harbor.

An elaborate report of the Tuesday night concert at Rockport is unavoidably deferred to Saturday's issue.

Charles Everett and son Carl were weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard C. Ingraham. On returning Tuesday to Waltham, Mass., they were accompanied by Mrs. Charles Everett, who has been spending the summer at the Ingraham home.

ROBBINS FAMILY
The 52d annual reunion of the Robbins family will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Robbins in Union, Tuesday, Sept. 6. All are cordially invited.

SOUTH THOMASTON

The "Beano Gang" was entertained Wednesday night at the Snow home by Mrs. Lottie Norton and Mrs. Georgia Snow.

Miss Agnes Larsen of Bangor was guest Sunday of Mrs. Miriam Sellers.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Waterman and family have returned from a vacation enjoyed with their new trailer.

Mrs. Madeline Maloney entered the What-Not Club recently.

Miss Marion Watts, Charles Watts, Jr., and Mrs. Madeline Maloney motored Sunday to Augusta.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Burgess and Mrs. Harold Rackliffe called recently on Harold Rackliffe who has employment at Boothbay Harbor. Mrs. Rackliffe remained for a week.

The Methodist Sunday School netted $50 from its fair and supper Friday at the Grange hall. Aprons and fancy work were in charge of Mrs. Victoria Clement and Miss Mary Bartlett; home cooked food, Mrs. Annie Dennison, Mrs. Madeline Maloney; candy, Joan Baum; supper, Miss Louise Butler. A program presented in the evening consisted of: Musical reading, Sylvia Tyler; fair drill in costume by Mrs. Watts' pupils; violin solos, Spalding Hodean; old fashioned songs by costumed women. Prof. C. Wilbert Snow of Wesleyan University gave a reading of original poems which was especially interesting.

A surprise birthday party was recently tendered Eugene Allen. The host received a variety of gifts and the company pleasantly passed the evening in game playing and partaking of refreshments.

Miss Mary Bartlett was luncheon hostess Tuesday to nine friends, and as the following day was Miss Bartlett's birthday, a few of those "in the know" presented to her a large book of native wild flowers. This was an especially appropriate remembrance as Miss Bartlett is a skillful florist and has many beautiful gardens. Those present at the luncheon were Miss Bessie Reer of Waldoboro, Miss Eliza Steele, Mrs. Lizette Emery of Rockland, Mrs. Eva Sleeper, Mrs. Flora Baum, Mrs. Agnes Hodson, Mrs. Nettie Kittredge, Mrs. Aurelia Ripley of this place and Mrs. Lillian Pillsbury of South Weymouth, Mass.

Lois Lindsey recently gave a party in honor of her cousin David Newcomb who is visiting here. The usual games were played with Edith Carr winning first prize; Harold and Ava Wiggin, second and third prizes. Unusual refreshments were served. Over 25 were present.

William Rowell Reunion
Forty descendants of William Rowell, Revolutionary soldier and early settler of this town, held their annual reunion Sunday at the Putnam farm on Marsh road. A picnic lunch with fish chowder and hot dogs was served.

Miss Jennie Putnam, president, called the meeting to order. Officers were elected thus: Mrs. Elena Fredette of Ash Point, president; Mrs. Marion I. Lindsey, secretary-treasurer; Miss Lillian Rowell, historian. A letter was read from Nellie R. Coombs of Ord, Neb., two letters from Mrs. Maud Kennan of Ithaca, N. Y., with regard to the ancestry of Olive Lucas, wife of Joseph Mathews, nephew of Ruth M. Rowell; and a very amusing letter from Nehemiah Muchmore, dated Oct. 12, 1827, to his cousin Betsy Russ.

Announcement was made of the birth of three children of the seventh generation during the past year—Gary E. Witham, Nathan B. Witham, David W. Arey; and the first child of the eighth generation, Beatrice M. Harvey. A vigorous hand clap was given for Mrs. Emma Witham who thus became the only great, great grandmother.

Among those present who represented the fourth generation or great grandchildren of William Rowell were Jennie and Clifford Putnam, Mrs. Emma Witham, Mabel Rowell, Ralph Rowell, Mrs. Elizabeth Babb, Mrs. Lena Simmons and Mrs. Della Robinson.

The fifth generation included Leon Crockett, Mrs. Effie Dyer, Bernice, Evelyn and John Newborg, Mrs. Marion Lindsey, and Phyllis Rowell. The sixth generation was composed largely of the younger element: Estelle, Malcolm and Nathalie Jackson, Paul J. Putnam, Mertie, Lois, Curtis, Dale and Marion Lindsey, Bernice L. Anderson, Mark and David Newcomb, Ellena D. Fredette, Margaret Crockett, Harold, Ava, Victoria and Isabelle Wiggin. A number of husbands and wives of descendants were present, viz.: Robert Robinson, Arnold

Present An Elaborate Piano Recital — Well Laden Program

A large audience of parents and friends gave generous praise to Mrs. Louie J. Rogers and her piano pupils, who appeared in recital Tuesday night at Community Building. The tower room was decorated with colorful flowers, phlox and dahlias, in attractive basket arrangements. A special song and dance number, was cleverly done by Beverly Cogan, who was dressed colonial in "Eleanor" blue with silver trim, with matching poke bonnet and pink roses. She sang "The Girl in the Bonnet of Blue."

June Ames was unable to appear on account of illness. A paper on "The Origin and Development of the Piano," read by Freda Moody, preceded this program:

Dorothy and William Robertson who have been visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Robertson, have returned to Rockland.

A party of 24 including the Federated Choir and Mr. Leach's class with invited guests had picnic supper at Georges Lake in Liberty last night. A shower coming up, they did not have supper outdoors as planned but were hospitably received at Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ludwick's home and reported a fine time.

Mr. and Mrs. James Fales leave today for Beloit, Wis., after a vacation spent here with Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Wolf and Capt. and Mrs. James T. Fales.

Mrs. Weston Young and Mrs. Stanley Macgowan entertained Thursday Club members and their husbands at Mrs. Young's home Monday night at indoor picnic supper followed by auction. Prizes were awarded Dr. E. R. Biggers and Mrs. Edgar Cobb, with consolation to Mr. and Mrs. Orvel Williams. The others present were Mrs. Biggers, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dornan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, Mr. Cobb, Mr. Macgowan and Mr. Young.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Paulsen and family are occupying the Hathorne camp "Nimrod" at Stone's Point in Cushing this week.

Miss Harriet Donlevy and John Connors of Cambridge, Mass., were guests Saturday of Mrs. E. D. Carleton. Miss Donlevy writes radio script and children's stories, and Mr. Connors is city editor on a Somerville newspaper. Miss Sarah Carleton is now here from Cambridge for a visit with her mother.

Miss Katherine Aagesen who spent the summer at her Spruce Head home left last night for Bloomfield, N. J. Last Sunday Miss Edith Lenfest and W. C. Lenfest with Mrs. Earl Risten, Mrs. Stewart and Miss Jessie Stewart called on her. Other callers were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Robinson of Warren, Mass., Mrs. Robinson's sister, Miss Anne Dermond, who are at their summer place "The Anchorage" in Martinsville.

The Friendly Club sale of home cooking Saturday afternoon is in charge of Mrs. E. R. Biggers and Miss Helen Studley, who ask all members and associates to consider themselves solicited to send something for it. If a pleasant day it will be on the Congregational Church lawn; if not, Mr. Donaldson will kindly permit them to use a counter in his store.

Attending the Three Quarter Century Club annual gathering Tuesday in Augusta were Mr. and Mrs. Ellery Townsend, Mrs. W. A. Meserve and Edward O'B. Burgess who went in Mr. Burgess' car.

Big
WEEK END
Savings!

Every Saturday from 7 P.M. until Monday morning at 4:30 A.M., most out-of-town telephone rates step way down. You get big savings on many calls. For instance, you can telephone 96 miles for only 35¢ — 116 miles for only 40¢ — 140 miles for only 45¢. *3 minute station-to-station rates.

and Millard Gilmore and John Tillson accompanied by Mrs. Tillson who went in William T. Smith's car, Charles Knights driving. The day was fine and all found it an enjoyable occasion.

The supper last night in St. John's parish hall was very well attended, the menu being a tempting one: lobster stew, crackers and pickles, coffee, doughnuts and assorted cakes. Mrs. Barry, Mrs. Louckes and Miss Hall of the committee are gratified by its success.

The Boy Scouts had a hot dog roast Monday night at Sandy Shores, with Scoutmaster Carl Chaples and a number of invited guests.

Miss Harriet Rose of Dorchester, Mass., is the guest of Mrs. John Creighton.

Mrs. George York entertained at dinner Tuesday her aunts Mrs. Harriet Whitney and Miss Eliza Whitney and her cousins, Mrs. Charles Wotton of Rockland and Mrs. Donald Whitney. Mr. and Mrs. York and their sons Charles, Bernard and George Scott expect to leave today for their home in Quincy, Mass., after spending several weeks here with Miss Whitney.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. S. Morse have returned from Orono where they visited Prof. and Mrs. Roy Peterson and family at University of Maine.

Miss Alceda Hall will leave Saturday for Sanford, where she is music instructor in the schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Lamson of Wells River, Vt., have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Creighton, Jr., for a few days, and are leaving today.

About 30 attended the Star Circle picnic last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Young at Pleasant Point, Cushing. Lobster stew supper was served by Mrs. Young, Mrs. Madolin Spear and Miss Helen Stetson, the committee for this very pleasant picnic, the Circle's last one for the season.

Miss Marilyn Miller, Lois Hastings and Joan Vinal are the girls from this town who had a part in the piano recital given by Mrs. Louie J. Rogers pupils Tuesday in the tower room of the Rockland Community Building, the complete program of which appears in another column.

SOUTH WALDOBORO

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Heywood of Staten Island are spending two weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Currier.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Davis of Rockland, Mass., are vacationing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred S. Davis.

The condition of O. S. Borneman who is very ill, remains unchanged. He is being cared for at the Little Nursing Home.

Hadley Miller of Friendship was a caller Saturday at Alvin Wallace's. Miss Gertrude Winchenbach is spending a few days with Mrs. Nellie Boggs.

Mrs. Frank Gupitill, sons Frank and Roger of Harvard, Mass., are passing a vacation with relatives here and also visiting in Friendship.

GEORGES RIVER ROAD

An outdoor service will be held on the land of Elna Makinen in South Thomaston Sunday at 12:30 o'clock. Refreshments will be served. All are welcome.

WASHINGTON RALLY

Speakers at the Republican rally next Tuesday night will be ex-Senator H. C. Buzzell of Belfast and Representative Alan L. Bird of Rockland. Supper at 6:30.

The Help One Another Circle of Knights Daughters will meet Monday night with Mrs. Ella Caler.

Ray Robinson and Miss Eileen Kimball, who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield Robinson, returned Tuesday to Newport.

Dr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Powers entertained as guests at their cottage, at Riverside Park, Camden, over the weekend, Miss Miriam Ferris of Merchantville, N. J., "Buddy" McKeon of Camden, Frederick Skillings and Eugene Powers of Portland, and C. Frank Berry of this town.

Mrs. Percy Kenniston, Mrs. Laura Seavey, and Mrs. Chester Wyllie returned Monday from Ocean Park, where they had attended the Women's Missionary House party. They motored there with Mrs. Charles Marsteller of Rockland.

Dr. C. E. Bousfield, Missionary for many years in China, and at present located with the island mission boat, "Sunbeam" at Bar Harbor, will conduct services Sunday morning at the Baptist Church. Dr. Bousfield, for whom, many of the older members of the Women's Missionary Society did much white cross work, is in constant demand as speaker throughout the State. He has been home from China nearly a year. Much of his work as foreign missionary was among the lepers; and he devised a treatment for that dread disease which has proven very successful. He will be weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wyllie.

There will be no services Sunday at the Congregational Church.

Mrs. A. J. Nichols of Rockland was guest Tuesday of Mrs. Chester Wyllie.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Stickney and Mrs. Elsie Coburn Stickney, who have been visitors since Friday at Mr. and Mrs. C. Scott Coburn's, returned Tuesday to Keene, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stahl, William Partridge, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Robinson, Miss Winona Robinson, of this town and Miss Madeline McBride of Hopkinton, Mass., attended the funeral services Monday in Thomaston for William Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Watts passed Sunday at Crescent Beach with Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln McRae.

Mrs. Edward F. Glover of Rockland, director of district 9 of Woman's Club, will be guest tonight of the Woman's Club. Orest Robinson of Castine and Thomaston will present his illustrated lecture.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Spear, Mrs. Edna Nash, Mrs. Alice Cook, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Peabody all of this town, and Mr. and Mrs. William Flint of Waldoboro, enjoyed an outing Sunday at Bert's picnic grounds, St. George.

Otho Thompson returned Sunday to Medford, Mass. after passing several days with Mrs. Thompson.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Emmons at a harvest supper Sunday were, Mr. and Mrs. Leland McElwee of Union and Friendship, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thompson of Lowell, Mass. and Friendship and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Farnham, and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Simmons and daughters of Lowell, Mass.

A pie sale will be held Friday night at White Oak Grange. On the committee are, Miss Esther Tolman, Miss Carolyn Bowden, and Miss Freda Moody.

Mr. and Mrs. William Maloney and sons, Thornton and Douglas of Natural Bridge, N. Y. were recent guests at the Emmons Farm. Nicholas Montgomery and daughter, Mrs. James Melanson and Mrs. Melanson's daughter, Janice of Gloucester, Mass., have been visiting their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence B. Tolman.

Mrs. Frederick Mank of Miami who spent the past month with relatives in this town, making her headquarters with Mrs. Fred Jameson, returned Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Henry McCraw of West Newton.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Boggs have been with Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Boggs in Gorham this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Gammon and children, Earl and Avis, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Benner of Waldoboro, motored Sunday to Mt. Desert.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stickney and son William, of Framingham, Mass. were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stickney, and on return home were accompanied by their son Richard, who spent the summer with his grandparents.

Those from here who attended the annual meeting of the Three Quarter Century Club in Augusta, Tuesday were, G. Dudley Gould and John Munsey, who motored there

"POEMS OF PROFIT"

Brann's Promises Are Being Made Right and Left—Would They Be Fulfilled?

Isn't Mr. Brann rather inconsistent in claiming that no more state pensioners will be added to the list after Sept. 12, because of the financial condition of the state, and almost in the next breath promising $30 a month to all the needy should he be elected? If the state cannot meet the current demand for old age pensioners at an average of $20 per month where will Mr. Brann get the money to pay everyone $30 per month? He must expect to find state finances much improved over what they were when he was paying so much less pension money out of the contingent fund.

As a matter of fact, Mr. Brann's promise of $30 a month to everyone is as extravagant as his original pension scheme. State pensioners have now been put on a substantial basis and have come to stay. They will be made as liberal and extensive as the state can afford and needy pensioners need have no fears as to their future.

The system cannot be perfected and the lists made complete in a day or a year but they can steadily improve as they have been doing. Using them as a political football, as Mr. Brann and other Democratic candidates are doing will not help anyone very much. Old age pensions are a matter of dollars and sense and if handled on any other basis are bound to be a disappointment.—Kennebec Journal.

The Difference P.W.A. Is Recovery Agency; W.P.A. Is a Relief Agency, Scott Kittredge Explains

Many questions have arisen concerning the difference between WPA and PWA. In an attempt to define the functions of these two agencies, Scott F. Kittredge, the Executive Assistant of the National Emergency Council for Maine, has issued the following Bulletin:

"Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works, or PWA, under Administrator Harold L. Ickes was created by an act of Congress in 1933. Its functions are to stimulate employment and to revive the Nation's heavy industries. It is primarily a recovery agency.

"PWA makes outright grants of 45% of the cost of heavy construction projects, such as schools, hospitals, sewers, waterworks projects and townships, etc.

"The community furnishes the remaining 55%. The community must advertise for bids from private contractors and let contracts to the lowest responsible bidder. The contractor hires the labor for the project. The contractor pays his labor the regular rate of pay prevailing in the particular community. The project is constructed by the local community under the general supervision of the Public Works Administration.

"The Works Progress Administration, or WPA, under Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, was created by an Act of Congress in 1935. It is primarily a relief agency. The WPA employs labor from the relief rolls. These men are on the Government payroll. This labor is furnished to the community for light construction projects such as roads, airports, parks, playgrounds, etc. WPA also employs persons from relief rolls for 'white collar,' research, music, theatrical, and other types of projects. The government looks to the community for liberal contributions toward the cost of materials and rental of equipment. The cost of the labor is paid entirely from Federal funds."

with a Mr. Briggs of Rockland, Nelson Williams, Chester Jones, Miss Mina Williams, and Mrs. Hattie MacFarland, who motored to Augusta with John Starrett.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Watts of West Somerville, Mass., were dinner guests Monday of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Davis.

Because:—

The legalized sale of beer and ale in the State of Maine provides annually approximately:

7,000 Jobs
$2,030,000 in Wages
$1,900,000 in Revenue to the State
$900,000 for Old Age Pensions
$200,000 for Education

Every taxpayer benefits directly or indirectly from the sale of beer and ale

The loss of this revenue will mean additional taxes upon your home, your farm and your pocketbook!

ENGAGEMENT PARTY
Announcing the Approaching Nuptials of a Rockland Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver P. Ingraham entertained at bridge at their Norton Pond cottage Wednesday evening, announcing the engagement of Winola L. Richan to Almon B. Cooper, Jr.

Miss Richan attended the Institute of Musical Art, New York City, the College of Liberal Arts of Boston University and studied school music supervision at the College of Music of Boston University. She is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority. For the past two years she has supervised music in the Skowhegan and Bingham schools.

Mr. Cooper graduated from Hebron Academy and University of Maine and is a member of Beta Kappa Fraternity. He is the founder of the Maine Federation of Little Theatres and is employed by the M. B. and C. O. Perry Co.

Others present were Lucinda Rich, Esther Dunham, Faith Richards of Augusta, Ruth Young of Warwick, R. L. Gerald Beverage, Clarence Waterman Jr., Glendon Woodman and Roger Kellogg.

Honors went to Miss Richards, Mr. Kellogg, Miss Dunham and Mr. Woodman.

Gave Financial Aid

Gov. Barrows Tells of Educational Assistance To 164 Towns

Speaking before the citizens of Bridgton and vicinity Gov. Barrows reviewed the financial record of the State and laid particular emphasis, among other things, on the accomplishment of providing to the Educational Department $200,000 of additional funds for each fiscal year during his administration, the result of which has been the extending of financial aid to 164 municipalities of Maine without increase in taxation to any of the citizens of the State.

Continuing, the Governor said: "My opponent in the present campaign has stated in the press and over the radio that a portion of the operating deficiency of $2,044,000 from his administration was occasioned by relief expenditures for not only the aged of the State but it also supplied aid to some 40 towns in Maine to assist in keeping the schools of those towns in session. Such a statement from the lips of the former Governor of Maine is a most amazing utterance. It is absolutely at variance with the facts and his own record. I would advise the citizens of Maine that not a single penny of the overdraft of $2,044,000, to which my opponent refers as "relief expenditures," was expended to assist the towns in the operation of their schools.

"I quote from a letter from Commissioner Packard of the Department of Education, dated Aug. 26, as follows: 'During the school year ending June 30, 1936, the amount of $16,863.50 was directly paid to teachers from this department in 55 towns, most of these towns being in Aroostook County. As I view it, no relief money was involved in this expenditure in any way. The amount paid to the teachers in these towns was taken from a fund directly owed to the towns by the State. As a matter of bookkeeping the state school fund is usually accredited by the State Treasurer to the several municipalities as against the amount of state tax due the State from the municipalities. There is a provision in the statutes that state tax unpaid on January first of each year is charged with accrued interest at the rate of 6% until paid.

"The essence of the situation in connection with this arrangement with 55 towns is to the effect that the state advanced money to these towns from the state school fund in order that the schools might be kept open and these towns were charged with interest on their unpaid state tax at the rate of 6% and in numerous instances the amount is still unpaid and interest is still accruing at the rate of 6%.

"In other words, the citizens of Maine should realize what the arrangement at the request of the former Governor of Maine actually amounted to was this. The State advanced from the state school fund to 55 towns of Maine money which was actually theirs in any event and charged them at the rate of 6%. In the meantime, 43 out of the 55 towns have paid their State tax with interest at 6%. The State tax from the remaining 12 towns still remains at the present time on the books of the State Treasurer as unpaid with interest charges accruing at the rate of 6%.

"So that the former Governor of Maine in making the amazing statement which he did either misunderstood the facts of his own arrangement or else possibly has forgotten it at the present time. He merely arranged for an advance cash payment of money due them and at the same time charged them 6% interest on the loan. Compare that arrangement with the fulfillment of the Republican platform pledge which has been carried out—namely, $200,000 of additional funds to the Educational Department."

LINCOLNVILLE

Schools will begin Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Dickey of New York city who have been guests for ten days of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Dickey, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Burton Gray of Plymouth, Mass., enroute to New York.

Misses Natalie McCloud and Phyllis Thomas are passing a few days with relatives in Boston.

Mrs. Lizzie Stewart of Lowell, Mass., is making a few days visit with her son, Capt. George Stewart.

Mrs. Mary Young and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley MacGoogel of Milton, Mass., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Dickey, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Dickey to Togus recently to visit Fred Dickey at the Veterans Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Robie Johnson and daughter of Lowell, Mass., are passing a fortnight with Mrs. Dora Moody at the village.

when the woolen yarn was wrung out.

Candle making was a yearly task. She had fluid lamps for best but these were too dangerous for every day use and oil lamps and candles were more often used. When the lamps were clean they were kept on the kitchen mantle. It was only occasionally that they were banished to the shed.

Grandmother found time to knit and sew. All her bedding was handmade and many of her quilts were beautifully quilted with raised patterns of flowers and leaves. She gathered goose feathers which she stuffed into her pillows and feather beds. All her blankets were hand woven. She had once woven a blue and white bedspread which she prized highly. There were mittens and stockings to be knit. She made by hand all of her husband's clothes. Grandfather declared that none of his clothes should be made by machine.

Homemaking of 90 years ago had its delights. Grandmother enjoyed entertaining the minister. The kitchen table was spread with a linen cloth and her sterling spoons and best dishes were brought from the china closet. The decanters, with their small supply of choice wine, were polished until they shone. Fancy cup, saucers and napkins were on the table. There was sure to be something special for supper. A pleasure which came every day was the long and restful evening, for contrary to common opinion not all the folks of long ago went to bed early. Once the table was cleared and tipped back to form Grandfather's favorite chair there was time for reading the Belfast Examiner or the Ellsworth American or the weekly paper from Boston. Sometimes there was singing and Uncle Otis played his fiddle. Occasionally the long kitchen was cleared and the young folks of the neighborhood gathered there to dance. Grandmother's day was a long one but she took pleasure in her work and in her simple recreation.

HAWTHORNE'S POINT

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Olson and children John and Ida and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Walcott were recent visitors at Bar Harbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Hinds and children Edwin and Robert of Franklin, N. H., are vacationing at Hanley's cottage.

Mrs. Charles Bailey of New York City is on a short vacation at her summer home, Pilot's Point.

A weenie roast was enjoyed Friday evening at Alvaro Olson shore.

Those present were: Christina Olson, Eva Spear, Clyde Maloney, George Bennett, Ida Olson, and John Olson.

Mrs. W. F. Bennett of Massachusetts is guest of Mrs. W. T. Bennett at Hahn's cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson and Mrs. Downs of Boston, Mass., are visitors at the Egerton farm.

PLEASANT POINT

A supper will be held Friday at 6 o'clock at the school for the benefit of the cemetery road.

THE AVERAGE MOVIE-GOER SPEAKS HIS MIND...

IT'S HARD for a fellow like me who thinks apple pie is one of nature's greatest gifts to man to believe that there are folks who honestly don't like it at all.

On the other hand, I can't abide liver and bacon — though I know it's highly regarded by many.

We all have our likes and our dislikes. We're all different — thanks be! A dull world it would be if we weren't.

That's why I say that the most remarkable thing about motion pictures is that they hit such a high average of pleasure-giving.

Take any individual picture and you'll find that most people who see it will get a lot of enjoyment out of it.

Not all, naturally. For example, I think a certain star is tops — while, to hear the way my next-door neighbor goes on about her, you'd think she wasn't good enough to be an "extra".

Or my wife sees a picture during the afternoon and raves about it at dinner. Maybe son and I take it in that evening — and come home feeling that Mother is losing her judgment. And there you are. It's the apple pie situation all over again.

But, taking them all together, I figure that the "movies" give more pleasure to more people at a lot less cost than most anything the mind of man was ever responsible for — and have done the human race more downright good than all the medicines concocted since creation.

And I'll say this: The times when I've been disappointed in a picture have been a lot fewer than the other times when I've gone to see one I wasn't especially excited about in advance and been mighty glad I did.

Sure, I criticize the pictures. I pay my money and that's my right. As a matter of fact, I kind of figure that it's the criticism of average folks like me that's largely responsible for the pictures getting better and better all the time.

Through the years the motion picture has given its public countless hours of entertainment, countless hours of escape from harsh reality. It has taken millions away from trouble and sorrow, lightening their burdens and brightening their lives... making the world a better, happier place to live in.

It has grown — from "cowboys and Indians" to dramatizations of the works of the world's greatest authors... from temperamental flickers to technical perfection... from infancy to an intelligent maturity.

To provide the finest array of productions ever released the Motion Picture Industry has mobilized all its skill, all its imagination, all its resources to provide the greatest array of productions ever released.

Great stories splendidly produced... love-filled romance, stirring drama, gay adventure, hilarious comedy, tuneful musicals — star-studded casts filled with your favorites and new faces, new talents, for which the world has been searched. One after another these great pictures are coming to your favorite theatre.

Entertainment, relaxation, freedom from care are yours in overflowing measure, brought to you by the supreme efforts of the Motion Picture Industry to make this fall season one you will never forget.
